Subject No. 373.
Maintenance of small Tanks.

Summary of discussion.—Government should maintain small tanks, or remit the assessment if raiyats should maintain.

Dewan's reply.—Impossible. The minor tank restoration scheme must be strictly enforced. We can grant concessions such as fishing and grazing rights, &c., &c., but it is impossible for Government to keep all these tanks in order. The raiyats should deal with them according to long standing custom.

Subject No. 374.
Licenses to timber traders to cut wood in Raiyats' jungles.

Summary of discussion.—Licenses should be refused to traders to cut timber in jungles reserved for use of villagers.

Dewan's reply.—The practice is being abolished.

Subject No. 375.
Free licenses for removing wood from occupied lands.

Summary of discussion.—The practice of requiring free licenses to be taken out for removing one's own wood from occupied land should be abolished.

Dewan's reply.—The Inspector General of Forests says that order has been given to this effect. Enquiry will be made.

Subject No. 376.
Disposal of fruit trees at settlement.

Summary of discussion.—At settlement, fruit trees have been given away to occupants to the prejudice of long vested rights, for example, in Marachenhalli in the Channapatna Taluk.

Dewan's reply.—This will be referred to the Deputy Commissioner for enquiry and disposal.

Subject No. 377.
Undue reservation of Tank beds in favor of Inam villages.

Summary of discussion.—There has been undue reservation of lands as tank beds in favor of Inam villages.

Dewan's reply.—Matter for individual complaint by Government raiyats affected thereby.

Subject No. 378.
The plain between Fort and Petta at Channapatna.

Summary of discussion.—The plain between the Fort and Petta at Channapatna was given away by sale for building houses. This land should be resumed, and the sale amount refunded to the parties, the sites being reserved for any eventual public buildings, municipal garden, school playground, &c.

Dewan's reply.—This is being carried out by the Deputy Commissioner.

Subject No. 379.
Government grant required for Channapatna Municipality.

Summary of discussion.—Channapatna is a large town. It has a Mohatarfa collection of Rs. 3,000. One-half of it is taken to Government. The other half is consumed by conservancy, lighting charges, &c. There is no money for stone drains, &c. Only one-twentieth part of the town is provided with stone drains. The earthen drain is a source of nuisance. Funds should be advanced for stone drains and other improvements of the town, the same being recouped by the Government share of the Mohatarfa Revenue.

Dewan's reply.—Let the Municipal Board apply if necessary. The Government moiety has been made over to the Municipality.
